What is Broughton?

Broughton is an idea—

a belief in individual worth,
a belief in intellectual endeavor,
a belief that only through knowledge comes understanding.

Broughton is tradition—

the tradition and stability found in reputation, a reputation of achievement with honor, the tradition found in high standards of perseverance, integrity, and ability,
the tradition of dedicated faculty,
the tradition of service freely given, and of co-operation and dedication to a common goal.

Broughton is spirit—

found in competition, be it on a basketball court or in a scholarship exam, a spirit of pride in achievement and in the warmth and simplicity of the ever familiar, a spirit of harmony and unity
a spirit born of loyalty and faith in individual interests and merit.

Broughton is an awareness—of both individual and group responsibility and its importance in a complex society, an awareness of opportunity and challenge,

an awakening sensitivity to that which is meaningful,
an awareness of purpose in life.

Broughton is faith—

a faith in individual ability,
a faith founded on ideals of loyalty, responsibility, and understanding,
a faith in youth and its search for self-knowledge,
a faith in the future and its promise.

Sara,
You are one of the sweetest girls I know, and I mean it! Your cheerful smile and personality make anyone happy to be around you. Always stay that way!

Seasons

Autumn to winter, winter into spring,
Spring into summer, summer into fall—
So rolls the changing year, and so we change;
Motion so swift, we know not that we move.

The beginning was a rainy day, and we were both glad and sorry to be back.

Broughton seemed strange without the Class of '63, and it was equally strange seeing new sophomores . . .

We were excited at greeting old friends, going to new classes . . . reluctant to say goodbye to summer . . .

Most of all, we anticipated a memorable year.

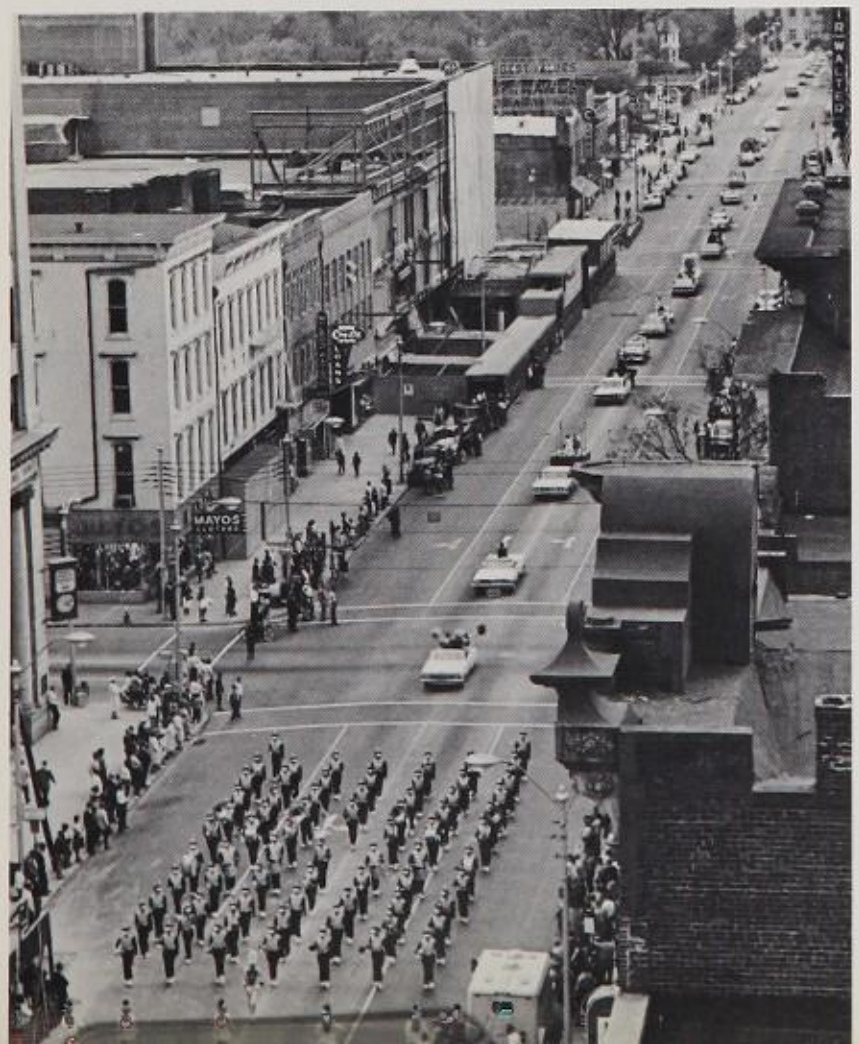
Autumn

Broughton welcomed us, pleased to have 2100 pairs of feet moving down halls, in and out of classrooms.
The parking lot filled up; and cafeteria lines, especially fifth period, were endless.
We tried to settle down and relearn our study habits, as extracurricular activities became more interesting and demanding.
New students and teachers were honored at teas . . . we cheered at football games, went on bus trips, and did the "Dog" at open houses at White Memorial.
Homecoming, minus rain, was a success . . .
The Honor Society had its fall induction . . .
We prepared for the future, taking the P.S.A.T. and absorbing facts and statistics about the schools of our choice on College Day.

We took part in Raleigh life, attending Van Cliburn's Concert, watching the "cultural" movies at the Ambassador . . .
We observed with interest the doings of the special session of the Legislature;
And, during our half-day vacation at the State Fair, we ate too much and spent too much, and came home with sawdust-filled shoes.

The days rolled on, and we barely noticed that the leaves had fallen.
The routine was set: classes, homework, too-short week-ends;
The usual problems, the fun, the hopes, and the occasional discoveries of ourselves and others.

Looking forward to Thanksgiving vacation, we were stunned, as was the world, at President Kennedy's death.
We walked the halls in silence that Friday, November 22; on Monday we had a Memorial Assembly and saw the televised funeral proceedings.



"We in this country, in this generation, are—by destiny rather than choice—the watchmen on the walls of world freedom. We ask, therefore, that we may be worthy of our power and responsibility . . ."

from the last address written by President
John Fitzgerald Kennedy—undelivered.

1917 - 1963

Winter

December brought Service Club inductions, College Boards, and Kiss Me Kate.

We haunted Olivia Raney, working on semester projects; we had pep rallies for basketball games, and went to swimming meets . . .

Girls started knitting their own mohair and ski sweaters . . .

The Senior Class Barbecue, the Snowball Dance, and Christmas Vacation were long-awaited pleasures that seemed to pass in a moment.

The Theatre in Education came to Broughton and, reflecting present-day England, the Beatles added variety to the entertainment world.

We struggled through exams, prayed for snow, and were usually rewarded by the inevitable "sleet and freezing rain."

Why do your eyes remind me of the snow falling at night under a yellow street lamp, soft so soft? I do not know.
Miriam

In February the Senior Class Mascot was elected. . . . The beautiful Queen of Hearts Assembly was held, and a record crowd came to the dance.

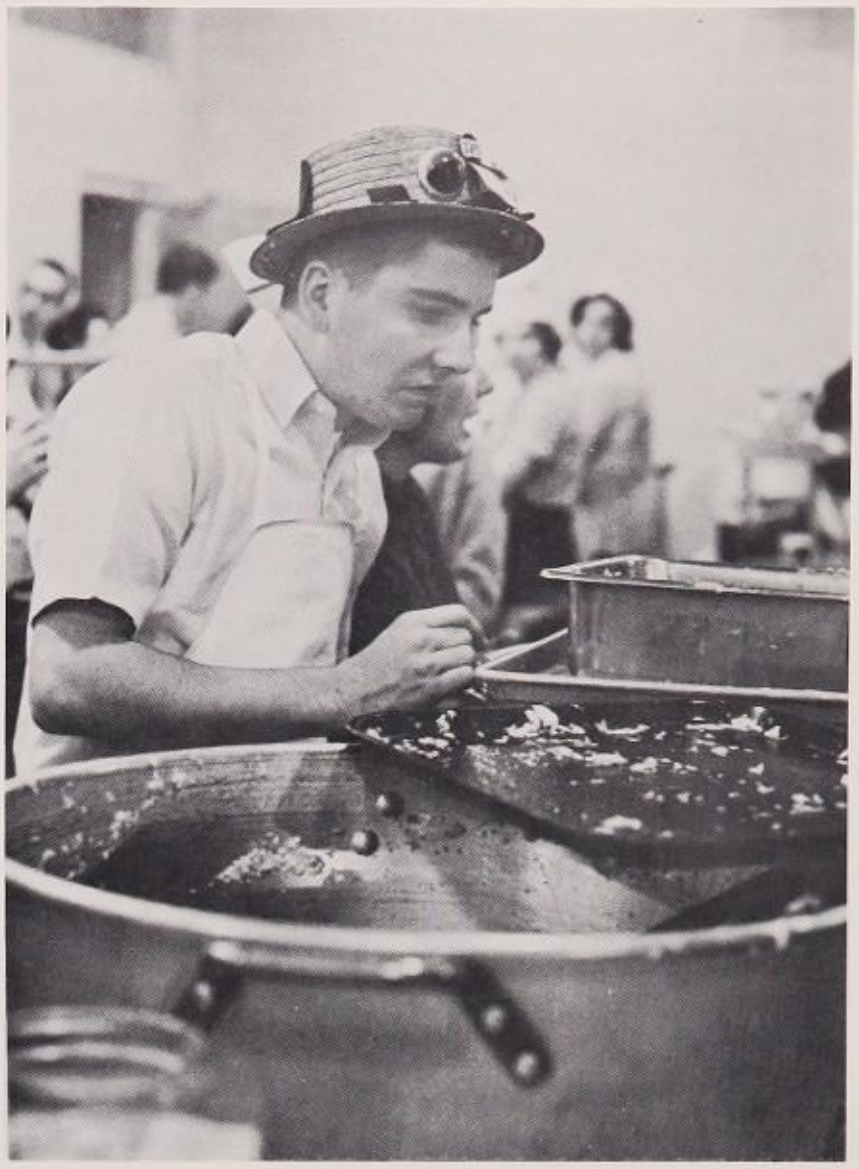
Broughtonites went to N. C. State to see the Chad Mitchell Trio; Peter, Paul and Mary; and the Four Freshmen.

Senior Superlatives were chosen . . .

The Junior Class held a chicken-fry for their money-making project . . .

The basketball team won the Eastern 4-A Championship.

March was typically windy, and we wondered if winter would last forever.



Spring

All at once it was Spring, and warm and lovely.

Raleigh's dogwoods bloomed, work was impossible.

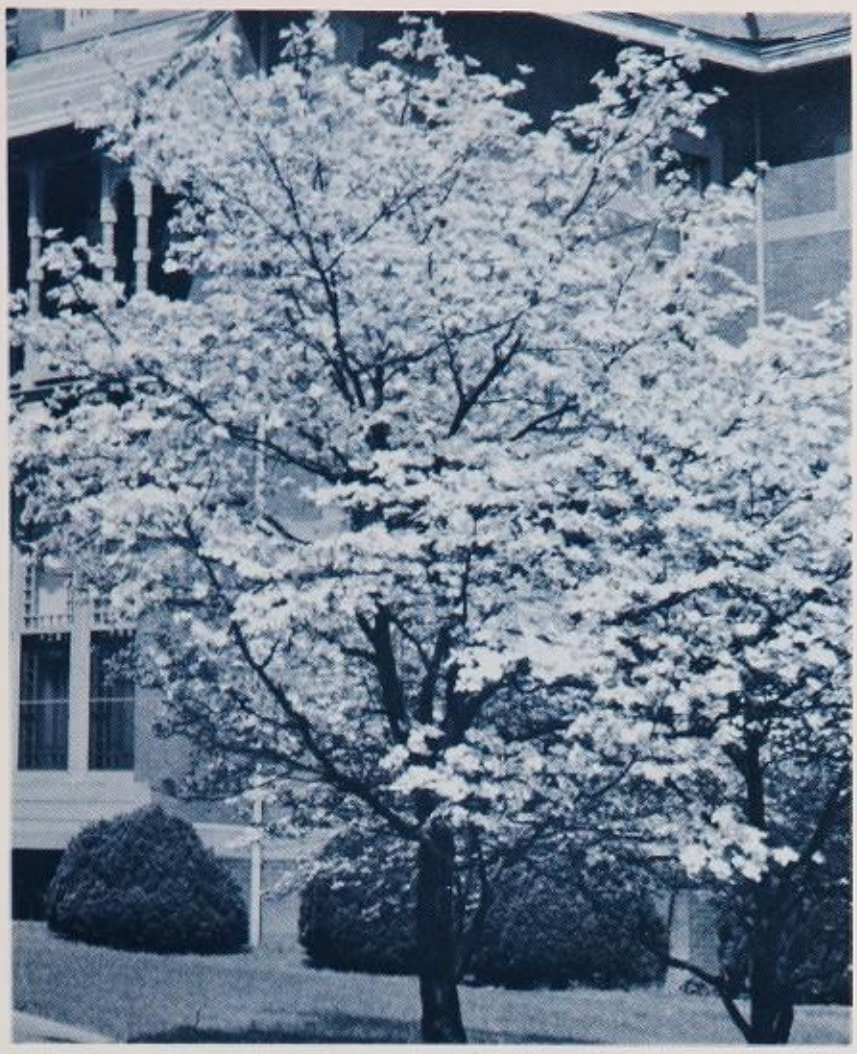
The spring sports started: tennis, golf, baseball, track . . .

Brave Senior boys seemed drawn to the water tower, carrying paint buckets and brushes, to paint proudly, "Class of '64!"

Cheerleader and majorette try-outs were held.

We went to the Junior Prom and the Senior Prom, and spent our week-ends sun-bathing.

It seemed, suddenly, that time was going too fast.



STUDENT DRIVER

May was a Senior, preparing for graduation.

With it came elections of class and Student Council officers, publications editors . . . College Boards again, and a supposedly open calendar,

Student Government Day . . . warm nights when we sat drinking Teems at the L&M.

We took final exams, and all at once it was Class Night, the Senior Picnic, the Junior-Senior Assembly;

It was Graduation, the Senior Reception—

June was goodbye.

Summer

"Motion so fast . . . so fast . . ." that the year is gone, and voices still say, "I can't believe it's over."

We grew; we changed; we spent an unforgettable year at Broughton. This was 1963-1964.

Dispersers of knowledge, molders of dreams;

Challengers and navigators for two thousand young lives;

The faculty are guardians of hope;

Embodiments of patience, understanding, dedication;

Combination secretary, bookkeeper, policeman, advisor, instructor;

Performers of great services and menial tasks;

Sometimes honorees, commended for their work,

More often, scapegoats, targets for failing students and distressed parents.

Often considered as a separate breed of men,

They are individuals,

Compassionate, humorous, affectionate;

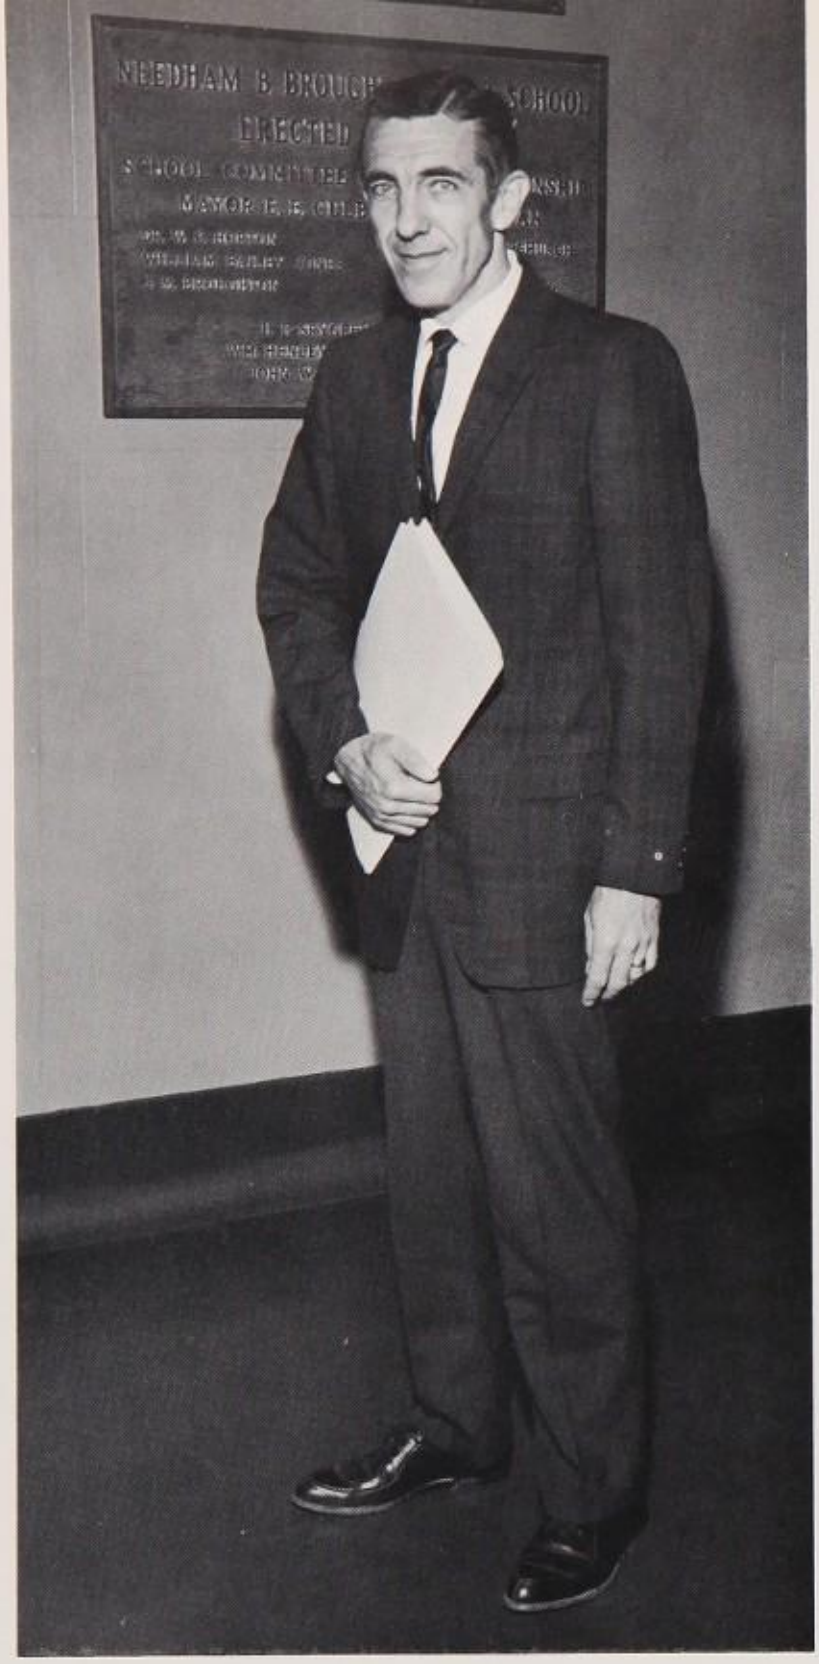
Creative thinkers and strong leaders;

Sculptors of minds;

Guides to understanding;

Gatekeepers of the door to the future.

Administration



Mr. Holliday

Faculty

Behind their desks they labor,

Performing the necessary tasks that keep Broughton functioning;

Planning schedules and coming events;

Keeping records, making bulletins;

Giving guidance for the uncertain future;

Offering understanding ears to earthshaking problems and minor dilemmas;

Suggesting answers to impossible questions;

Bestowing honors and sometimes admonitions;

Giving of their time, their hearts to help.

Efficiently, quietly, unselfishly they serve.

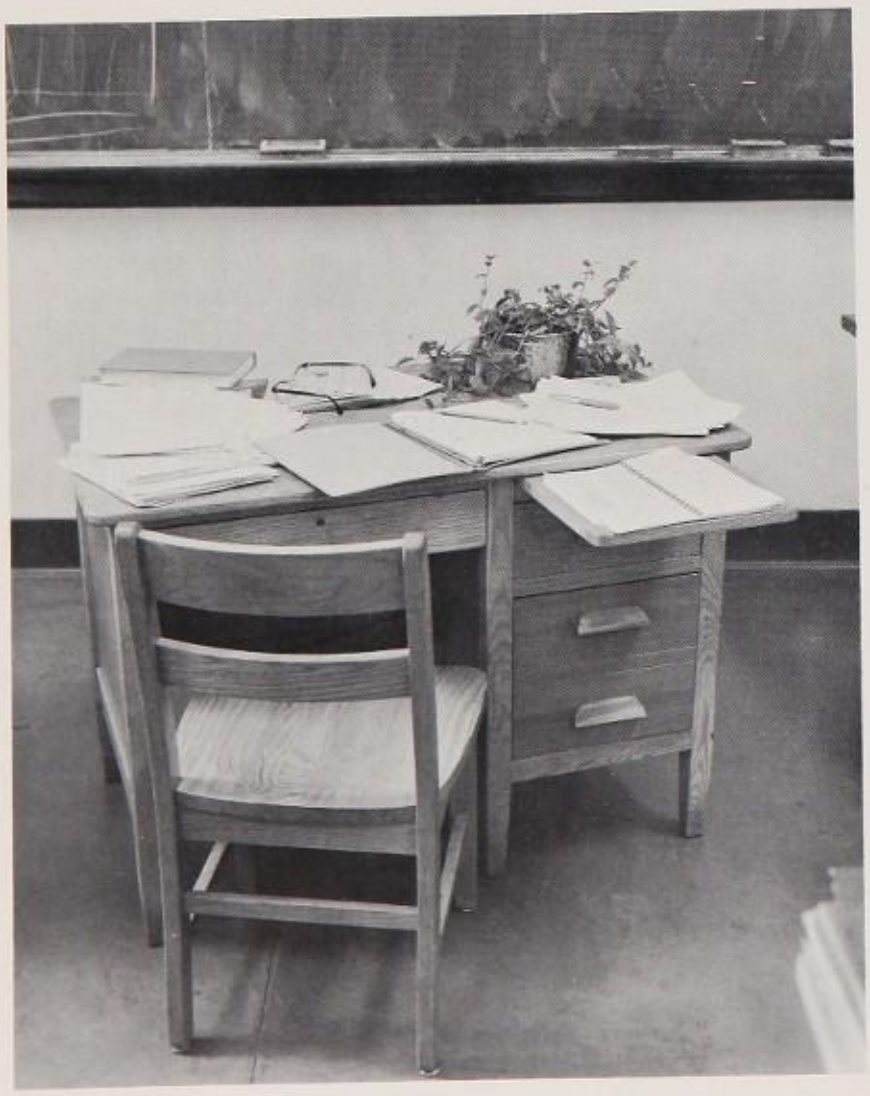
Academics

Miss McLennan helps Margaret Williams and Chuck Wyatt in biology lab.

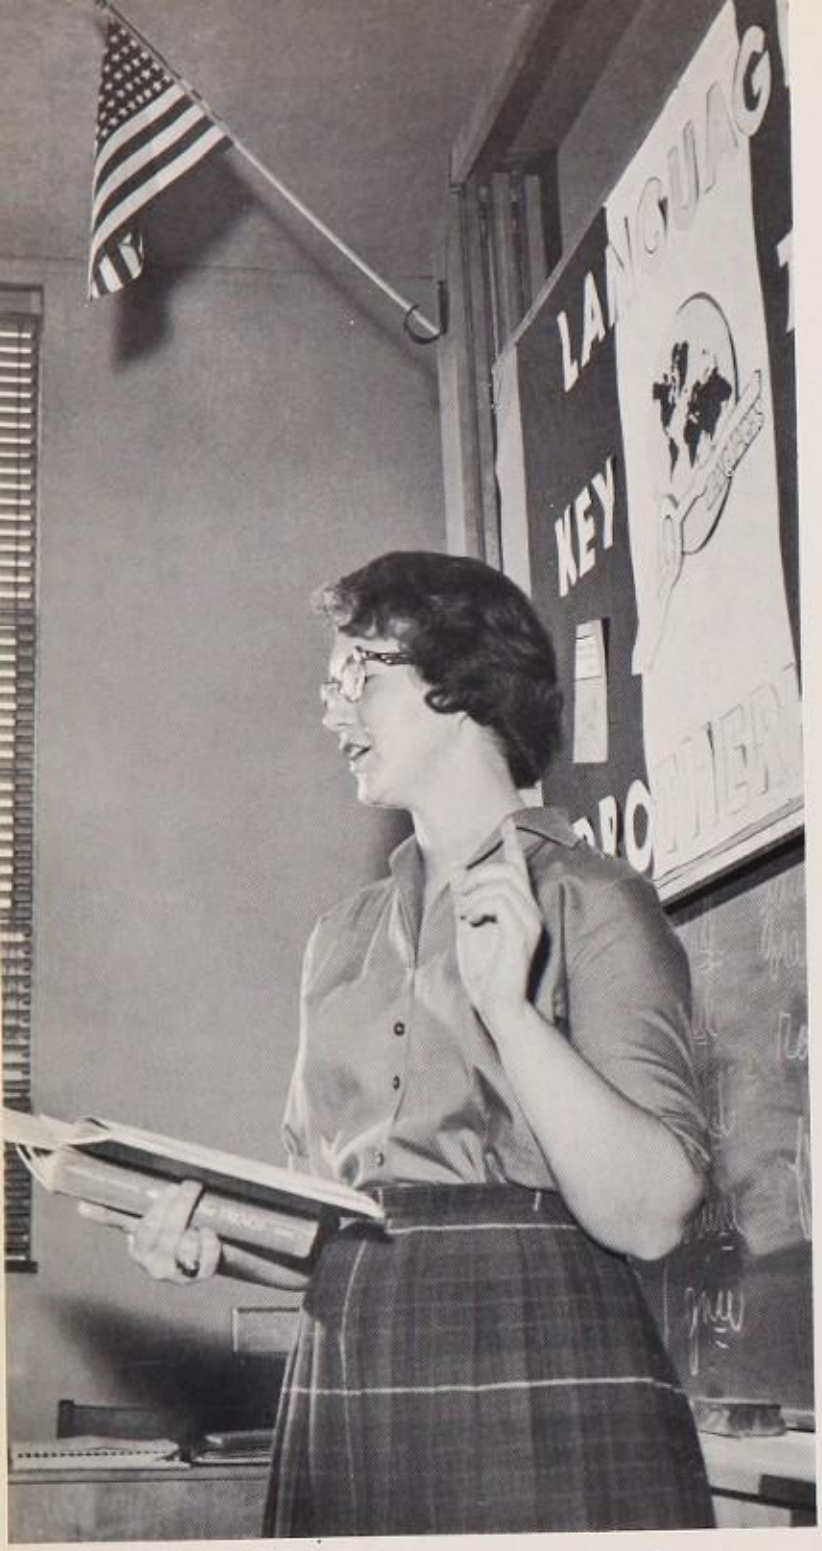


Grade books, notebooks, and various papers are characteristics of every teacher's day.

Mrs. Weddington pauses at her typewriter.

Jane Cook, Pat Caldwell, and Sandra Ingram are busy at the card catalogue in the Library.

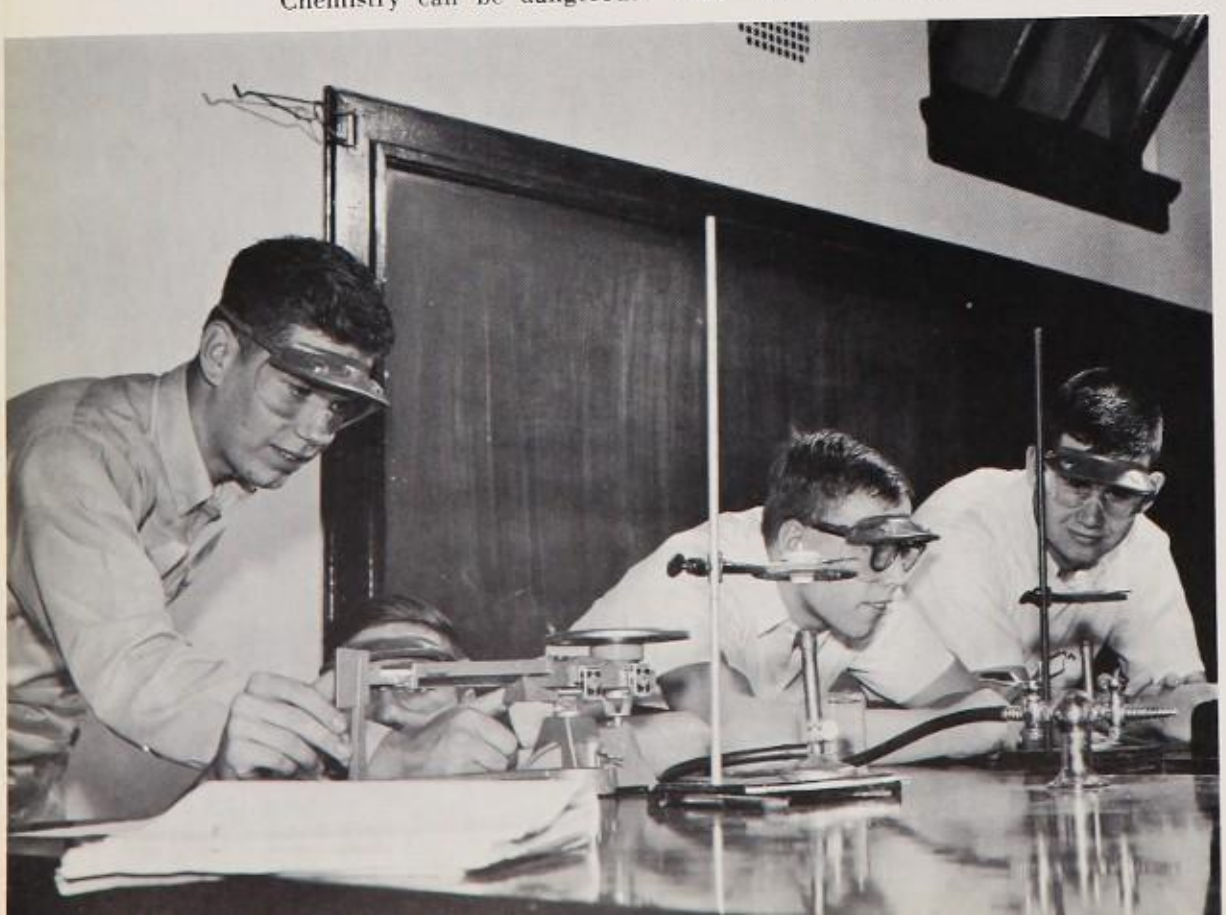
Typing is fun!



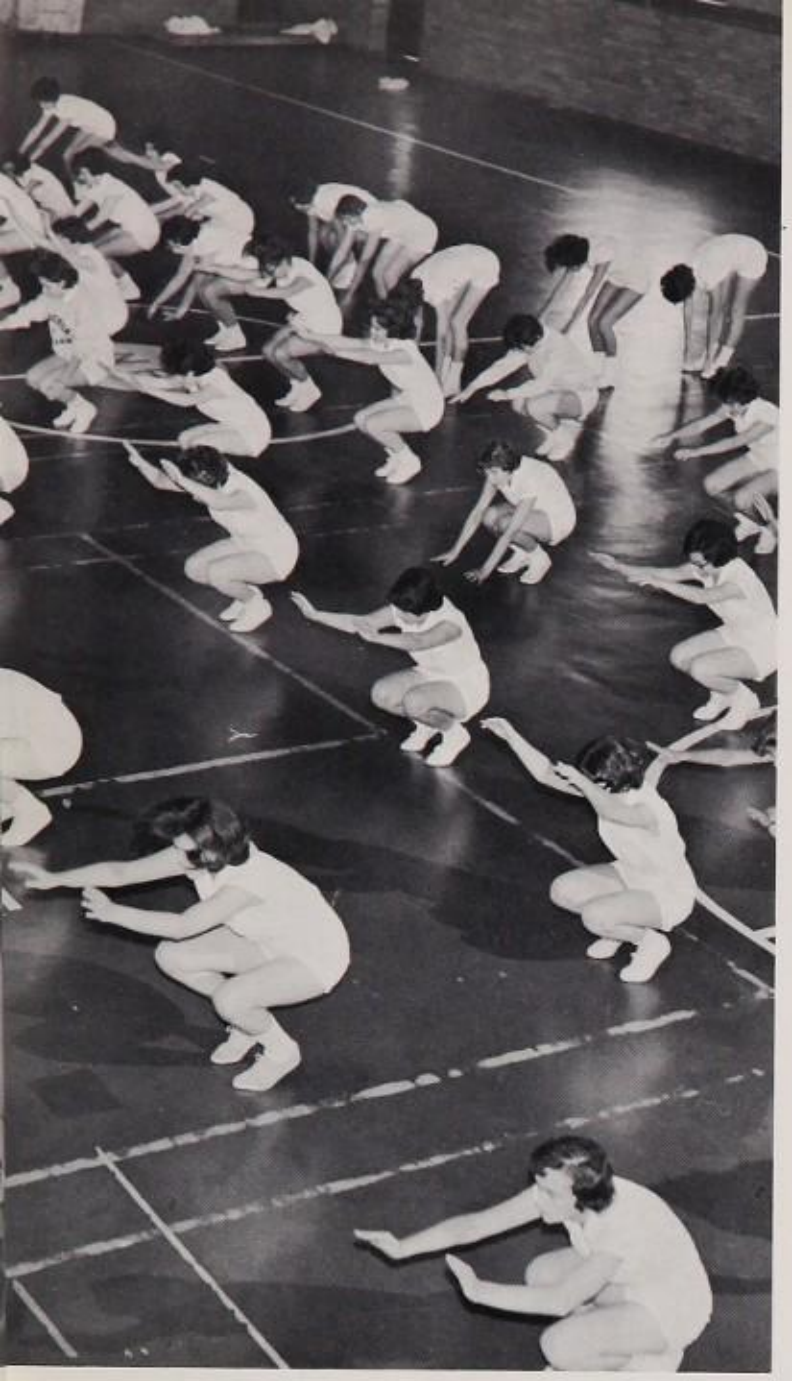
Miss Parker gives the key in French.

Anything for that figure.

Chemistry can be dangerous: Take care of the eyes!



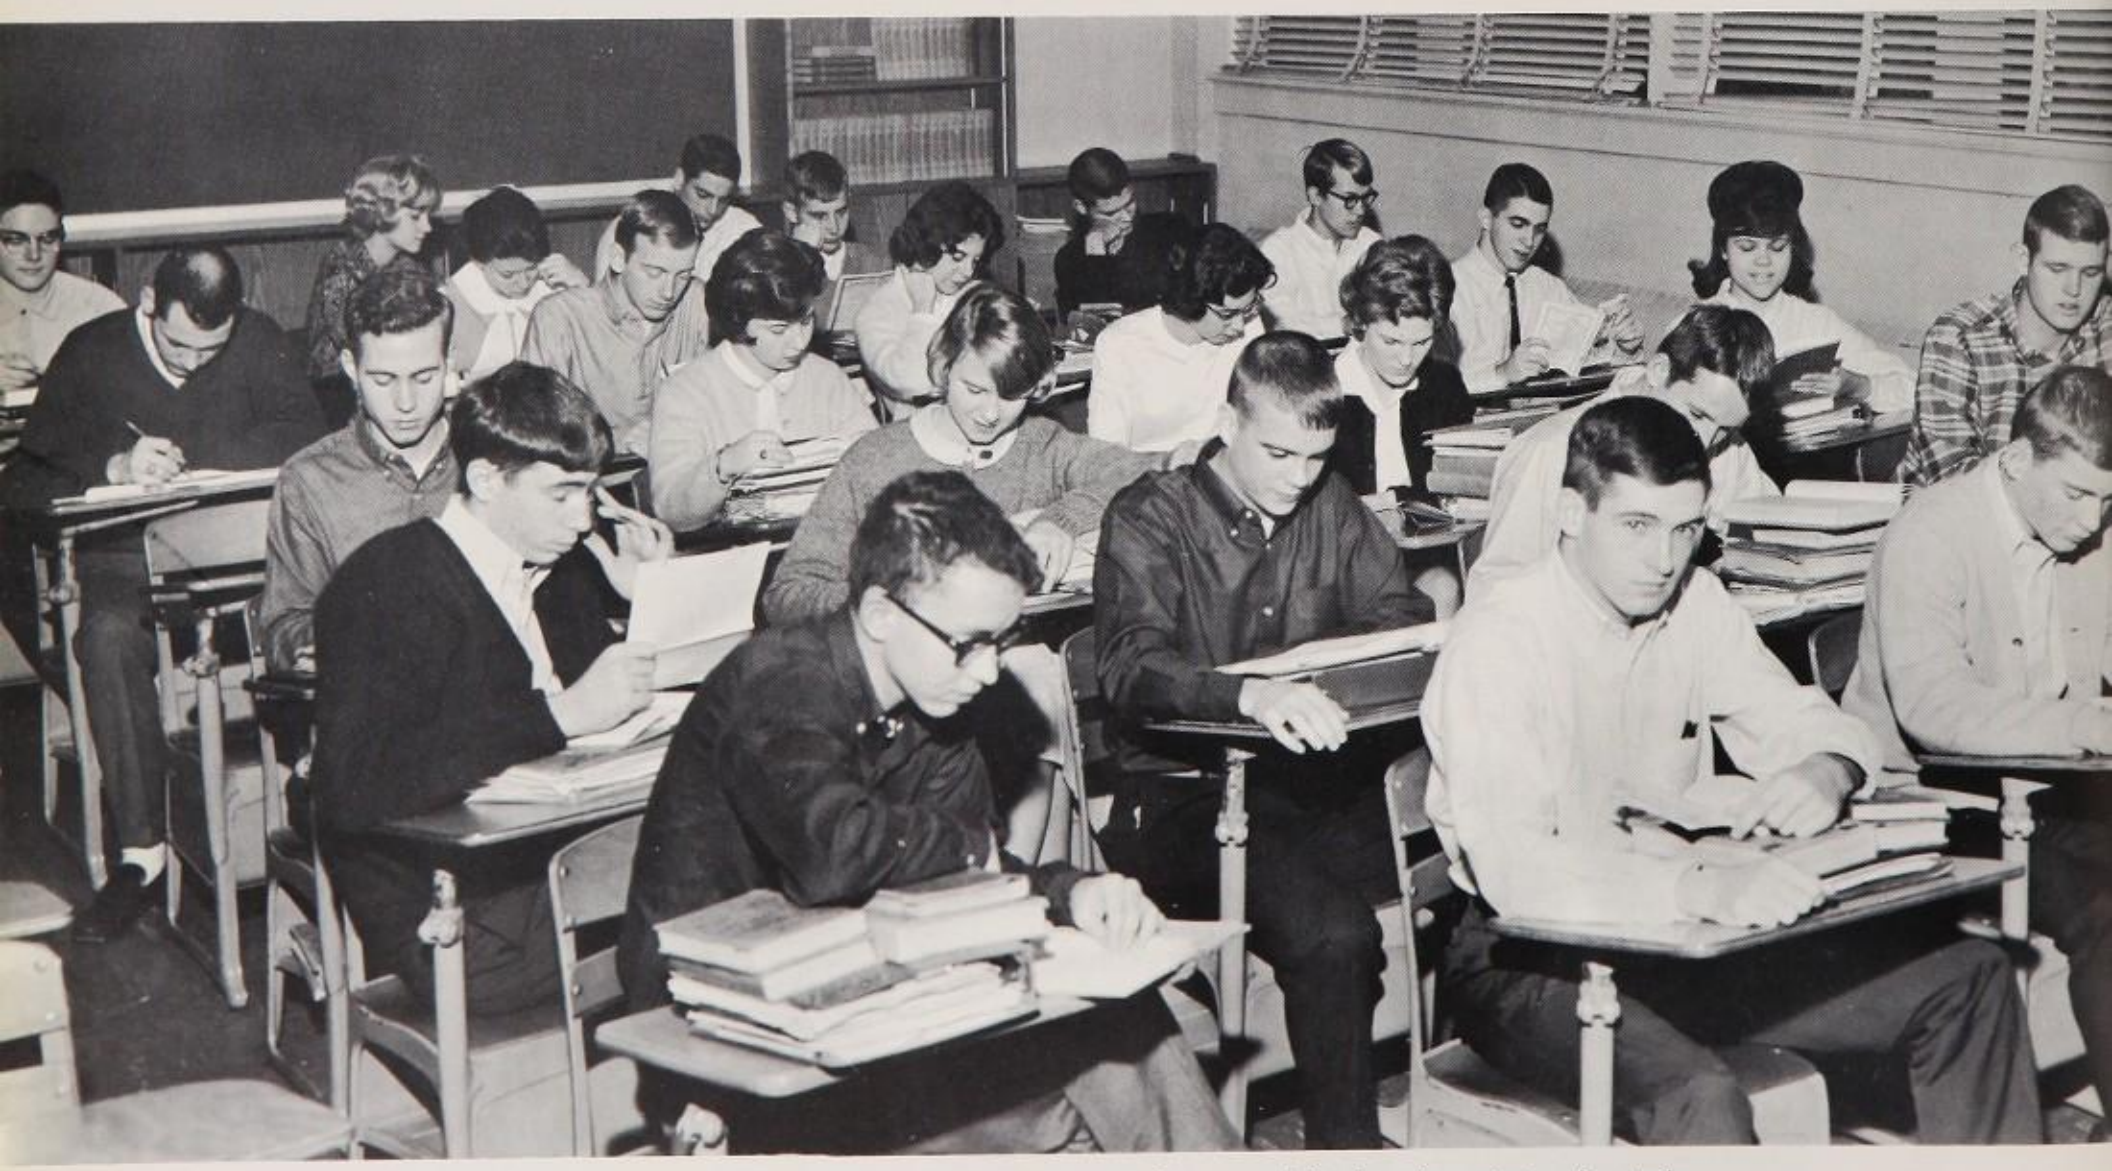
Mrs. Peacock prepares her lesson.



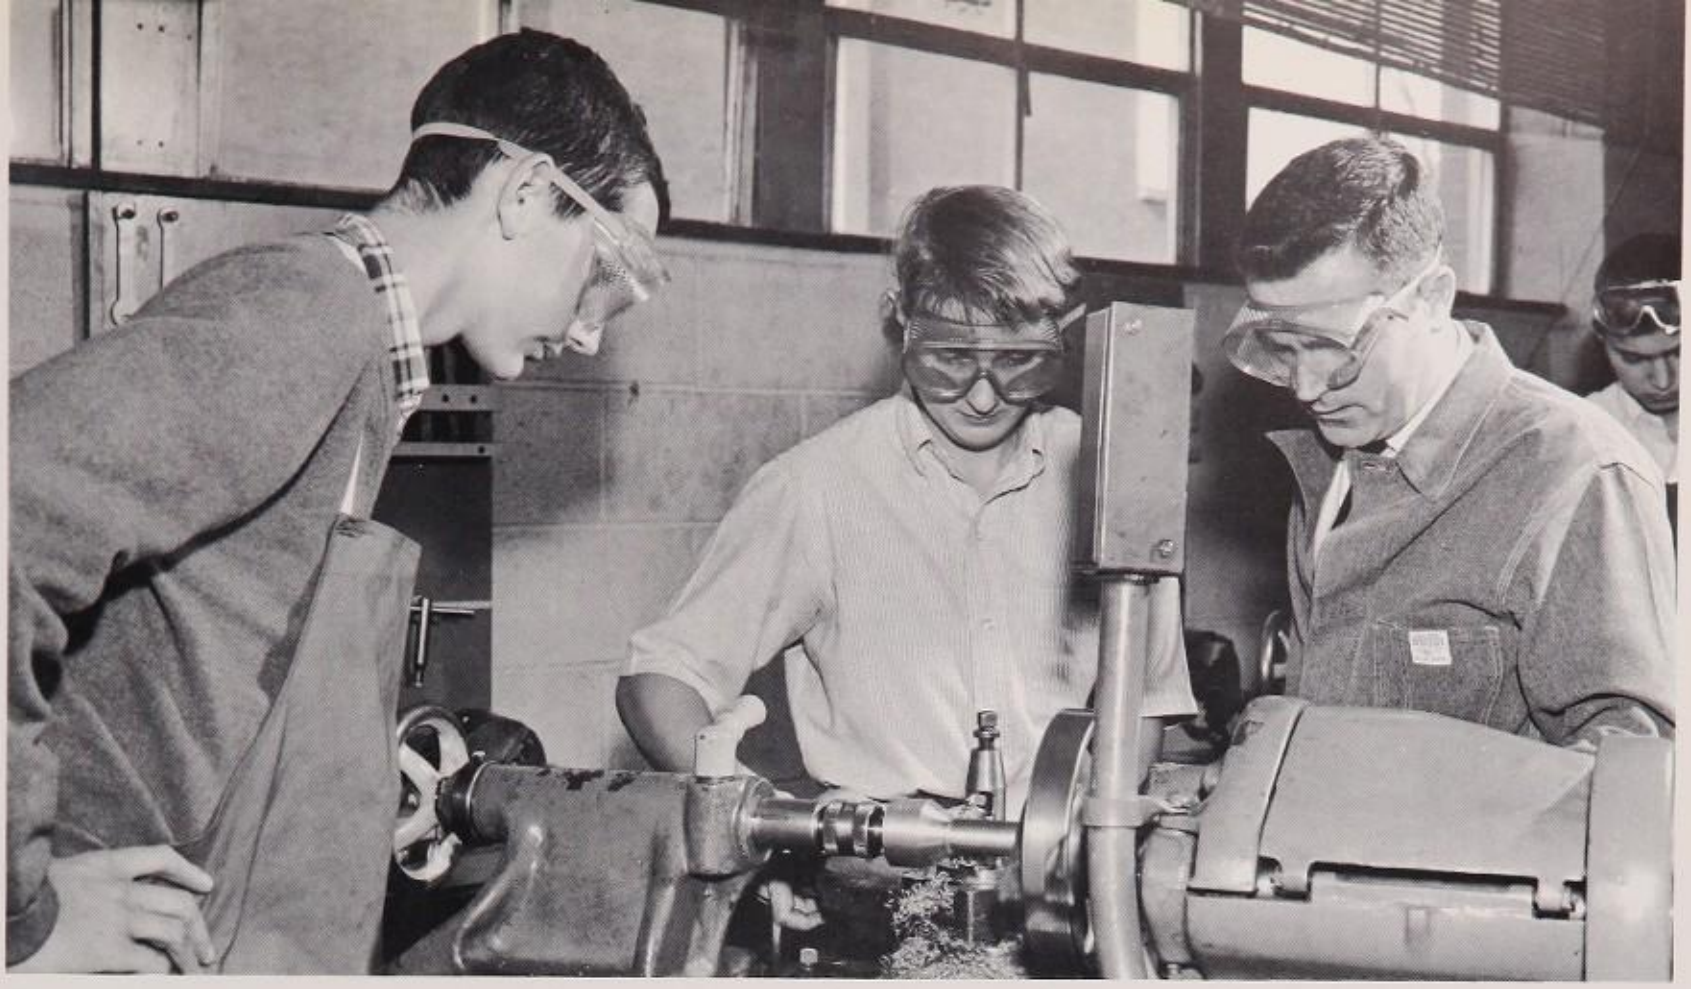
Mrs. Cox puts math across to Penny Smallwood.

Mr. Beenen points out a place on the map to Libby Lambeth and Charlie Silver in American History.

In art Jimmy Penninger and Larry Blackwood work against a background of their classmates' paintings.



Students in Mr. Beenen's homeroom take advantage of the last few minutes for study.



Mr. Keen checks on two boys in metals.

Emily Honeycutt and Donnie Ivy sew their own outfits.

Boys and girls learn the art of setting type.

The inescapable gym class is rewarding and sometimes even fun.

Mr. Johnson checks David Cox in mechanical drawing.

Mrs. Freeman starts these girls off right.

Methods of Proof
1) Direct: The desired proposition is shown to be true by straightforward applications of the rules listed.
2) Indirect: We assume the desired proposition is false; i.e., its negation is true. Reasoning from this negation and some of the

Mr. Blakeway has a way with Mathematics and English too.

The express line is supposedly the quickest way to food.

The cafeteria:

A maze of tables piled with books, pocketbooks, trays . . .

A constantly changing scene of people talking, studying, sometimes even eating,

Signing up for bus trips and buying various tickets in the midst of it all.

We had music for the first time,

Waited in lines that went on forever,

And ate the unforgettable hamburgers, cheese sandwiches, jello, and plates of cake crumbs.

For most of us, this was the favorite "class" of the day.

The choice makes one think.

Without one soul in sight, the

Books are temporarily at rest during lunch.

Tables are crowded with books, food, and pocketbooks.

clean, chairs straight.

What do you mean, 5c for milk?

Individuals and, at the same time, indistinguishable masses,

Separate beings forming the whole,

The classes are the crowds in the halls, rows of faces in assemblies;

They are the leaders and the followers, the conformists and the strongly independent.

Each typified by its own unchanging characteristics,

The classes are the uncertainty, the freshness, the bursting enthusiasm of a sophomore;

The mixed confidence and indecision of a junior;

The work, disappointments, and achievements of a senior.

The classes are hundreds of names and faces,

Each one and everyone;

The classes are Broughton.

Facing contradictions,

We seniors have gathered knowledge for twelve years,

Yet left so much untouched, neglected . . .

Accepted without thanks the unselfish service of our teachers,

Yet cherished in our hearts the memory of their guidance . . .

Discovered that we hardly know our classmates,

Yet made ourselves a fellowship through working together . . .

Reverenced the enduring ideas of the past and the wisdom of our elders,

Yet believed in our right to find our own answers.

We have let so many precious days slip through our heedless fingers,

Yet crowded into our years at Broughton light and pleasure and lively spirit . . .

Lived in the ecstasy of one joy-filled moment,

Yet felt and shown an abiding concern for the future . . .

Realized how far we stand from what we would like to be,

Yet grown so much toward that greater maturity.

We have come to the end of a path we began to follow long ago,

Yet somehow found ourselves

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

KURT HUBE ----------President
MIKE SOUTHERN-----Vice-President
SARAH HARRIS ----------Secretary
HARRIET MARTIN---------Treasurer
JACK HARRIS------Sergeant-at-Arms

Too mature for a sophomore,
Too youthful for a senior,
A junior is caught inbetween.
Confused, bewildered, he remmebers the carefree sophomore days,
But longs for the sophistication and wisdom of a senior.
While with nostalgia and hope he waits,
He discovers amidst a maze of geometric proofs, punctuation rules, facts, and formulae
Some of the meaning of life.
Inspired by Melville, Emerson, and Thoreau,
A junior thinks and struggles for words to express his ideas.
He wavers between the superficial and the profound.
Along with football games, parties, and dances
Come College Boards and Career Day,
The realization that the future is close at hand.
In this year of indecision, a junior finds new understanding, new independence, new responsibilities.
As he discovers the meaning of self-reliance, scholarship, service, ambition,
A junior becomes a part of Broughton.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS: George Kahdy, Charles Holland, Georgette Kahdy, Clay Matthews, Nancy Rawlins.

A sophomore is April grass—
Newness clings to him like reluctant dew . . .
With new eyes he scrutinizes dusty traditions . . .
With a fresh voice he flings questions and challenges
To faculty and upperclassmen alike . . .
And offers up new answers.

A sophomore is the exultant clamor of October fairs—
Enthusiasm spills from him like the metallic bangles
Of a ferris-wheel song. He is a joiner . . .
Eagerly he seeks membership in clubs, committees, teams . . .
Devotedly he attends each game, roaring the cheers . . .
Perfectly he learns the Alma Mater.

A sophomore is the crumbling of fresh snow's crust—
A harsher reality tries its weight upon his ideals, prejudices . . .
Some shatter; others are packed firm; others, remolded . . .
New concepts like knives of light bombard
His consciousness . . . penetrating . . . glancing off
But always leaving their mark.

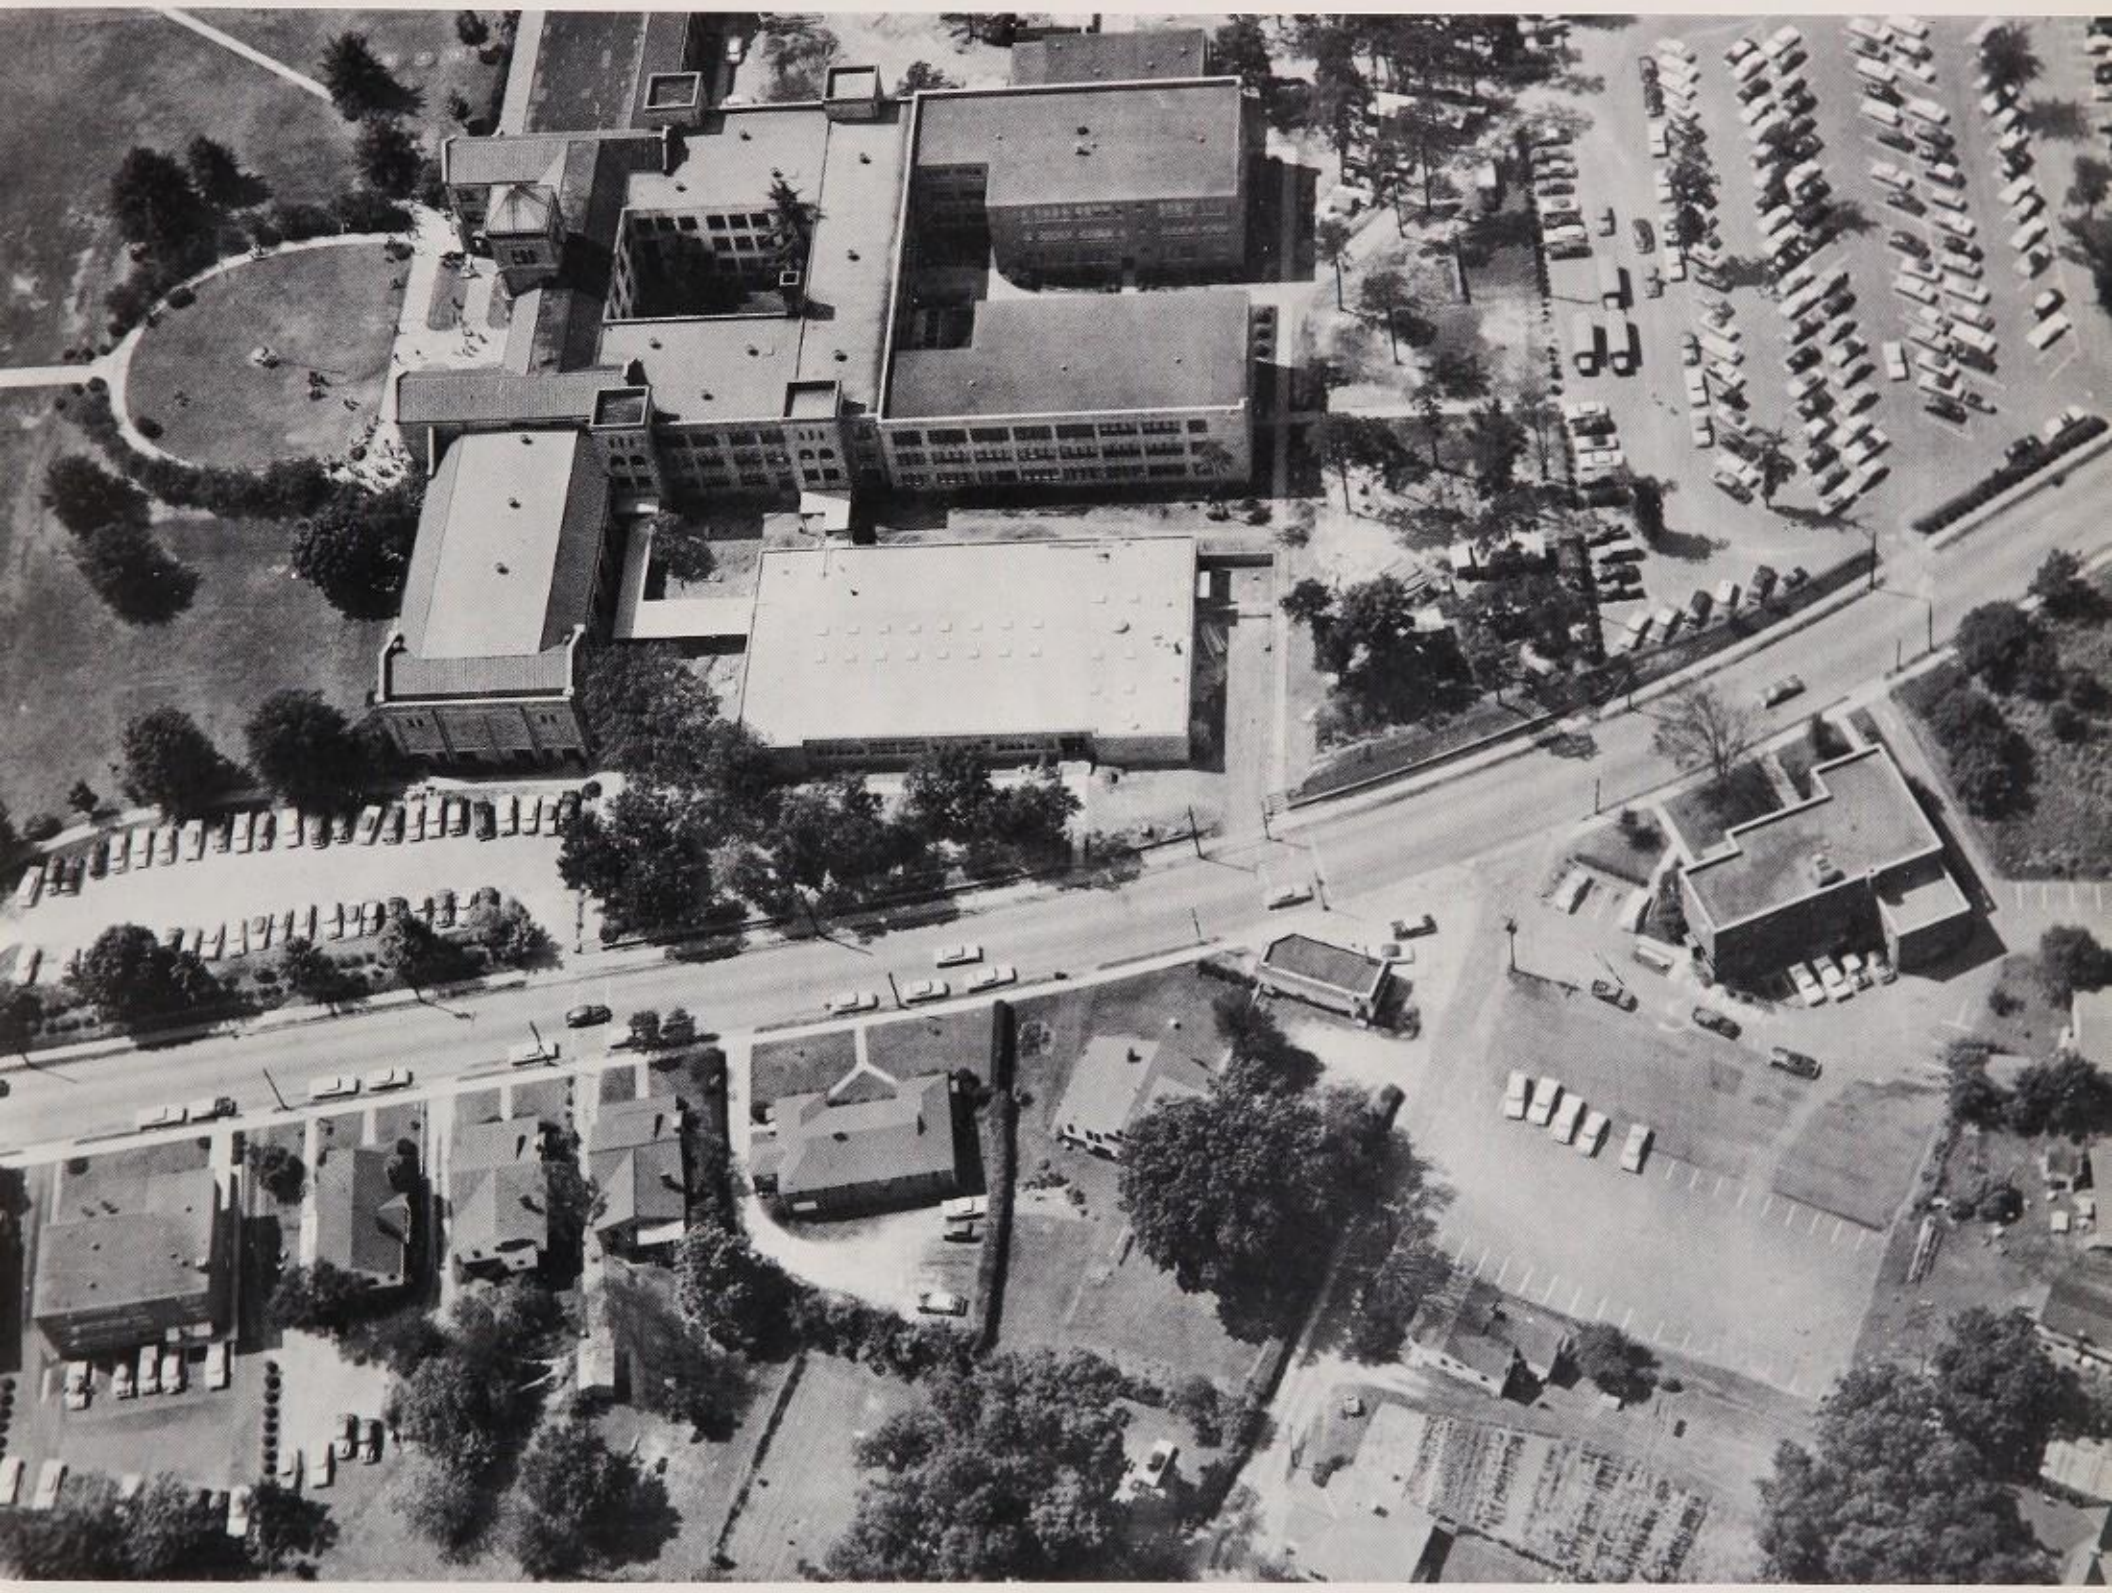
"To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Eugene W. Maddrey
1948-1964



An urgent drive to recruit members, collect dues, lay plans for the year ahead;

A chance to serve, a chance to play, a chance to learn about tomorrow;

A laughing whirl of socials, banquets, and picnics . . .

Organizations are fund-raising campaigns, field trips, service projects;

The boredom of tedious rehearsals, the press of last-minute plans.

Organizations are solemnly tearful assemblies, noisy gatherings in crowded rooms, earnest committee meetings;

The warmth of spontaneous friendship, the easy laughter of youth, the song of work made light by many hands . . .

Organizations: the pulsating lifeblood of Broughton.

Organizations

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: David Fore, Buddy Atkins, Lynn White, Bunny Church, Dick Young.

Student Council

Stimulating leadership and school spirit and rendering service to all through the activities of its various committees are the roles of the Student Council, which for 16 years has played a major part in the life of Broughton. The Council includes a representative from each homeroom as well as committee chairmen and members. Advised by Mr. Holyfield, it meets each month, and the results of these meetings are reported to every student by his representative.

A major project for 1963-64 was the revitalization of Support Operation Spirit accomplished through homeroom discussions, assemblies, publicity in the Hi-Times, and sponsorship of home basketball games by various school organizations. The festivities of Homecoming, the Snowball Dance, the Student-Faculty Olympics, the bus caravans to out-of-town games, and the spring clean-up campaign were also highlights of an active year for this always busy organization.

Latipac

JILL BRESLAU.....Editor

LIBBY LAMBETH.....Business Manager

The LATIPAC is a combination of the talent, imagination, perseverance, and, especially, the hard work of Broughton's journalism classes and interested students not taking journalism. Planning was begun during the summer when several members of the class attended the North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute in Chapel Hill. With the beginning of school, the real work started. Journalism students lived in a world of captions, copy, pictures, identifications, and layouts. As the LATIPAC began to take shape, members of the seventh period class were allowed to leave school during class to get advertisements. Miss Paschal, advisor for the LATIPAC, took the entire class to visit the News and Observer for their exam.

In March some of the journalism students went to New York for the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. By April LATIPACS were rolling off the presses at Edwards & Broughton Co., LATIPACS that the journalism classes attempted to make a truly vivid and complete record of 1963-1964.

Planning the LATIPAC layouts are Lyn Thiem, Anne Kenyon, Betsy Smith, Sue Miller, and James Capps.

Larry Bone, Ann Wright, Donna Crisp, and Rodney Mabry eagerly leave school in search of ads for the Hi-Times and LATIPAC.

Joe Maughan, Roger Duckett, Alice Graham, Pat McGee, and Mary Margaret Miller help record memories of the school year in the scrapbook.

Betsy Buford, Mary Dim LaSalla.

The Hi-Times

BETSY BUFORD.....Editor

MARY DIM LASALLA.....Business Manager

The Hi-Times, published by the journalism classes under the supervision of Miss Laura Helen Paschal, was a current reflection of school activities and events. Learning new words and terms, such as "mat" and "copy"; spacing ads again and again; counting letters and spaces for articles; and making up headlines were just some of the facets of publishing The Hi-Times. Working under a printing deadline helped many students learn the challenge of actually constructing a paper.

Several feature articles and individual columns were added this year in order to appeal to a greater number and variety of Broughton students. A five day trip to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association added new meaning to the stacks of articles, pictures, and editorials. All in all, the past Hi-Times issues now serve as detailed accounts of the 1963-1964 school year at Needham Broughton.

Patsy Lassiter, Mary Ann Holleman, Faye Brooks, and Linda Howell examine other school papers for exchange news.

Diligently stacking ads for the Hi-Times are Barbara Quessenberry, Donna Gargis, Ann Gardner, and Elaine Smith.

Betty Sessoms, Neal Ridge, Joan Tyner, Sue Underhill, Shirley Laws, Steve Moody, and Marcia Duckett type news stories for the Hi-Times.

The 22 members of Winged Words meet once a week under the guidance of Mrs. Peacock to constructively criticize the literary effort of any Broughton student who wishes to submit his work. The best of both the creative and expository writing submitted is published in the magazine Winged Words, which is sold each spring.

Winged Words was organized twelve years ago by Mary Forrest, a Broughton student. The club hopes to encourage creative and original writing and a sense of critical judgment in Broughton students.

Marshals

Marshals are elected to serve at all school-wide assemblies and class meetings. They also marshal at programs sponsored by the dramatics and music departments, as well as at graduation and PTA programs.

Marshals must have an 82.5 average in order to be elected. Each class has its own marshals: eight seniors, four juniors, and four sophomores. During the 1963-1964 school year Mary Ann Walker served as head marshal, and Mr. Holyfield served as the advisor.

Cathy Babcock, Ronnie Sue Leith, Johnny Evans, Don McPhaul.

Twice each year, in the fall and spring, the National Honor Society inducts worthy Broughton students, both juniors and seniors, at a school-wide assembly marked by both solemnity and excitement. Through its recognition of these outstanding students the society seeks to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote outstanding leadership and service, and to encourage the development of character at Broughton.

Besides holding its induction, the Honor Society tutors interested students in the weeks prior to exams. The members meet on the first Tuesday of each month with their advisors, Mrs. Donavant and Miss Coggin. A social is held each spring.

Honor Society members are eligible for N.H.S. Scholarships. Last year Janet Gurkin received a $1000 award and Peggy Bell gained honorable mention.

This year it also sponsored the basketball game with Wilmington on January 31, during the halftime of which the boys of our chapter defeated the New Hanover Chapter in a brief game of their own.

Service Club

LIBBY LAMBETH .....Secretary-Treasurer
DON ELLINGTON .....Sergeant-at-Arms

Sponsored by the Student Council as a means to honor those who render outstanding service to Broughton without thought of recognition, the Service Club holds two inductions yearly before the entire student body. In the fall only seniors are inducted; in the spring, however, juniors and teachers are also eligible. Any student or teacher may nominate candidates for membership who, if approved by the entire club, receive the highest non-scholastic honor bestowed at Broughton.

At the end of the year, the club selects two members, a boy and a girl, to receive trophies recognizing their outstanding service to Broughton. A picnic is traditionally held in April. Advised by Mr. Clark, the club this year has also planned to sponsor one of the spring sports as its part in Operation Spirit.

The Key Club is a service organization of 35 senior boys who seek to develop initiative and leadership, to serve Broughton and the community, and to prepare for useful citizenship. The club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club and advised by Mr. Taylor, meets every two weeks.

The members operate the concession stands at basketball games, work backstage at the Kiwanis Minstrels, and assist in civic fund-raising projects. In addition, this year they cleaned the auditorium stage and assisted in preparations for the Queen of Hearts Dance.

A $300 scholarship raised by the Club was presented in June to an outstanding graduate.

As every Hi-Y member learns, the purpose of his organization is to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character." There are five Hi-Y's at Broughton: two clubs each for sophomore and junior boys, and one for seniors. Each club meets twice a month at the YMCA with its school advisor and Mr. Don Cheek of the "Y."

The clubs have various money-making and service projects. The seniors, advised by Mr. Farmer Smith, prepare and sell the Hi-Y telephone directory and from the profits, award a college scholarship to a worthy member of their class. The sophomores this year sold doughnuts and kept a watchful eye on coats at school dances.

Hi-Y members are eligible to take part in a special club-sponsored tour of New York City over the Easter holidays. The clubs traditionally also hold socials during the spring months.

"Inward and outward beauty" was the theme of Y-Teen activities this year, which were many and varied. The approximately 200 member girls, whose goals are to grow as individuals, as world citizens, and as children of God, sponsored a booth at the YWCA World Fellowship Supper, a party for foreign students, and the financial adoption of foster children. Senior members attended the World Fellowship Service in Washington, D. C., and during Christmas the girls participated in the Hanging of the Greens at the local YWCA.

On the lighter side, the Y-Teens held a Sadie Hawkins Dance on February 29, of this leap year; members also participated in knitting, billiards (!), and bowling lessons.

There are five Y-Teen clubs at Broughton, the presidents, vice-presidents, and program chairmen of which serve on the Interclub Council, which acts as a planning and co-ordinating body. The Council meets twice a month, as do the various clubs; it is advised by Mrs. Mary Emma Boone, director of Y-Teens for the YWCA. A "Y-Teen of the Month" is selected and honored by the council.

Every morning at 8:25 the Mizpah Devotional Fellowship meets in the student dining room for a few minutes of worship. On Friday morning a guest speaker addresses the group.

The members, with Mrs. Memory as their advisor, aim to satisfy their own spiritual needs as well as to render service to the school and community. At Christmas the club goes caroling and provides for a needy family. Toward the end of the school year the 23 members hold a banquet or a picnic.

All boys who have earned letters in any varsity sport at Broughton are members of the Monogram Club, which seeks both to recognize their achievements and to render useful service to the school. During the Christmas season the club supervises the school collection of food and clothing for needy families. The members this year served as marshals at home basketball games.

Coach Walker is advisor to the sixty members, who meet once a month. At the end of the year, awards are given to the boys selected as outstanding athletes in their respective sports. Jimmy Broadway received the basketball award. Football players Wayne Bell, Woody Eatman, and Doug Bridges were named to the All-Conference team; Bell and Eatman played in the Shrine Bowl as well. The club planned a hayride to be held in April.

The 1964 Broughton Vocational Industrial Club under its advisor, Farmer S. Smith, has had a very active year. In following its purpose of growing in honesty, loyalty, dependability, and knowledge, the club has whole-heartedly supported various school and community projects. These included selling programs at home games, taking care of the inner court, and helping a needy family at Christmas.

The twenty-five members of the Broughton V.I.C. meet once a month for a dinner meeting. Its many state activities include such events as the state and district V.I.C. Conventions and a dinner-dance with the Cary, Garner, and Enloe clubs. Other events include the employer-employee banquet.

The V.I.C. and the vocational industrial classes are closely related in all purposes. The Broughton club was organized in 1956, and since that time, it has won five consecutive gold medal awards for merit.

For the last five years the F.B.L.A. has worked to produce better and more efficient business leaders at Broughton. The club, which now has 55 members, meets twice monthly with Mrs. Porter and Miss Price. The members this year sold 145 boxes of Christmas cards and used the proceeds to purchase book holders for the typing room. They also worked to keep the four business rooms more attractive.

The club held a Christmas party on December 13 and a banquet in April at which new officers were installed and outstanding business students were recognized.

Members of the Broughton Science Club have repeatedly won awards in district and state Science Fairs and the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. Through field trips, talks by guest speakers, and other programs, the members hope to increase their scientific knowledge and skill. To encourage students to pursue their individual interests in science, the club has sponsored the Broughton Science Fair.

The Science Club meets on the first and third Tuesdays of the month. The club advisors are Miss Bell and Mrs. Weeks. There are now 32 members.

The National Forensic League has been at Broughton for many years for those students who are interested in participating in all types of speech work such as debating, original oratory, and dramatic interpretation. During the year many tournaments and congresses are held in various communities throughout North Carolina. Several Broughton N.F.L. members have won recognition in contests at these tournaments. The Broughton debaters have twice defeated the Enloe teams and plan to enter the Regional Debate Tournament to be held in Raleigh at Enloe High School on March 14. Any person who takes an active interest in the Forensic League will no doubt become a more effective and dynamic speaker.

Purpose: To plan and carry out all Red Cross activities at Broughton.

The Red Cross Council, now in its third year of service, meets every month with Miss Coffey, to plan and carry out all Red Cross activities at Broughton. A representative is elected to the Council from each homeroom, but anyone interested is also invited to join. In addition, money is collected to enroll every homeroom in the Red Cross and each homeroom which contributes $1 per 30 students receives a subscription to the Red Cross Journal. After necessary materials are purchased, the remainder of the receipts go to the children's Fund of the local chapter.

The members wrapped Christmas presents for veterans on December 4 at the local chapter house. Later, a demonstration of water safety was presented as the group's contribution to Operation Spirit. The council also recruited volunteers to work at the local chapter during the summer.

Several individuals in the club have been especially active in Red Cross activities. Betty Willis is the only North Carolinian elected to serve on the Southeastern Youth Advisory Council last spring. Betty Garriss attended the national Convention of the American Red Cross in Philadelphia, and most of the officers attended a Southeastern Area Leadership Training Camp last summer.

Little Theatre

For the student body and the public, the Broughton Little Theatre provides delightful entertainment; for its members, it provides an opportunity to learn more about various aspects of the dramatic arts while improving in posture, poise, voice, and character. The club, numbering 75 members, meets under the guidance of Mrs. Wooten on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

The Cole Porter musical Kiss Me Kate was this year's major achievement and a complete success. Two other plays, Sartre's No Exit and Edna Millay's Aria de Capa, were also presented. The Little Theatre entered State and District dramatic competition in the spring.

The Adams Trophy is awarded at the end of the school year to an outstanding member in recognition of his high achievements in the dramatic arts. Little Theatre members may also be inducted into the Golden Masquers, the club's honorary society.

Mixed Chorus

The largest of Broughton's vocal music organizations, the Mixed Chorus gave several performances during the course of the year: at Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies, at Christmas and Spring performances for the public, and at the Baccalaureate Service in June. In addition, it was a participant in the District Music Contest in Durham.

All of the Chorus members are core music students interested in developing their singing skills. With Mrs. Freeman as their director, they meet each day for practice and instructions.

Vocal Ensemble

Thirty-two select music students are members of the Vocal Ensemble, a group which perform throughout the year before the school, the public, and various civic organizations. Founded in 1950 by Leon Jackson, the Ensemble meets each day under the guidance of Mrs. Freeman.

In cooperation with the Dramatics Department the singers performed Cole Porter's Kiss Me Kate before an enthusiastic public. They sang at, among other occasions, the state conventions of the DAR and PTA, the Lion's Club and Exchange Club Christmas parties, and the banquets of the Raleigh chapter of the NCEA and the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce.

Also during this year the Ensemble participated in the District Music Contest in Durham and the North Carolina Choral Festival in Greensboro.

Cheerleaders

Go, CAPS, Go! Rah! Rah! Rah! stomping, yelling, clapping . . . purple and gold pom-poms. . . . These are symbolic of Broughton's cheerleaders.

At the end of the school year, the cheerleaders are chosen on a competitive basis. Each girl is required to have at least an 82.5 scholastic average. Jill Thurlow and Chan Poyner were chosen from the sophomore class; Kate Johnson, Virginia Byrum, and Kay Lumsden, from the junior class; and Bonnie Messer, Charlotte Atkinson, Susan Poyner, and Brett Miller represented the seniors. Brett was chosen head cheerleader.

They began planning activities to support the CAPS during the summer. The group practiced cheers a week at Long Beach under the supervision of Mrs. Sandy Baker, the advisor.

During the school year, the cheerleaders practiced every Thursday afternoon. They supported the football and Basketball teams at home and out-of-town games. S O S was increased by the pep rallies they held at school.

Majorettes

The majorettes perform during the football games, participate in pep rallies, and march with the band.

Six were chosen competitively last year by a panel of judges. The chairman of the social standards, the head majorette, and the advisor, Mrs. Vera Melton, determined the semi-finalists. Two students, two teachers, and one qualified outsider made the final selection.

Those chosen were Margaret Mustard, Judy Wilkerson, Carolyn Cobb, Kim Issac, Janet Watson, and Carolyn Newhouse, as head.

They practiced every day during the two weeks before school. After school began, they practiced an hour and a half, Monday through Thursday and from 8:45 to 9:00 on Thursday and Friday mornings.

"In the Beginning . . ."

The Caps defeated Grimsley 13-0 in the opener. The game was deadlocked until the last quarter. With five minutes to play, Wayne Bell intercepted a Whirlie pass and ran for a T.D. When the Caps recovered a fumbled Whirlie kick, they drove 31 yards, where Terry Benson went over from the one. Wayne Bell kicked the extra point for the final score.

The Long March

With the quarterbacking of Woody Eatman and the running of Wayne Bell, the Caps romped over Lynchburg Glass 28-13. The Caps had an impressive running and passing game at halftime with a score of 21 to 2. Wayne Bell tallied from the 9 after a 57 yard drive for the first touchdown. Lynchburg struck back with a 54 yard scoring pass. The Caps tallied twice in the second period; Eatman highlighted the half with an eighteen yard dash. Broughton was forced to punt, Wayne Bell's punt was fumbled by the Lynchburg receiver, and Phil Holden recovered. Mike Pedneau led the Caps' second march of 75 yards and another Broughton score. Wayne Bell kicked the extra point, as he had after every TD.

Glory Road

The Caps forced their way to a 24-6 win over Wilson in their first home game. Wayne Bell scored on a 65 yard run and a one yard plunge, followed by a 27 yard field goal. Raleigh then scored on a short pass from Woody Eatman to Doug Bridges. After Bridges received a pass, he outran the Wilson team on a 64 yard run. Less than three minutes had passed. With four seconds left in the game, Wilson scored on a 27 yard pass.

Show of Violence

The Caps took their fourth victory by defeating Durham September 27.

Tommy Johnson scored the first TD on an eight yard run, after a sixty-six yard drive by Broughton. The kick failed to secure the extra point.

Doug Bridges intercepted a Bulldog pass to start a third quarter drive, which netted seven points. Mike Pedneau scored from the one. With 2:41 remaining, Durham scored on a three yard run.

Both sides were hurt considerably by injuries. The Caps lost Bell before the half. Dan Boone, Broughton center, broke his leg during first half. He was unable to play for the rest of the season. Third team reserves were in position for the Caps in the second half after Pedneau went off the field injured.

Catch- 22

Woody Eatman passed for three TD's to defeat Wilmington October 4. Johnny Bishop scored first, followed by tallies of Wayne Bell. The Wildcats, forced to pass, drove 65 yards on the second half kick-off for their score. An Eatman to Bridges pass set Broughton up for a Cap TD. Bell broke over for the score, but an offside penalty put the ball on the 10. Eatman threw to White in the end zone for his third TD. Bell kicked for the point, making the final score 22-7.

In Praise of Folly

The Caps defeated the Goldsboro Earthquakes in a fourth quarter rally. The game was deadlocked from the second until the fourth quarter until a 53 yard drive put Wayne Bell in position for a tally from the third yard line. The third TD was the result of a neglected kickoff. The ball, kicked by Bell, eluded the Earthquakes and was recovered by Buddy Atkins. On the first play, Howard White scored for another TD. Bell's attempt at the extra point was good. Mike Pedneau intercepted a Quake pass and ran 43 yards, where White took over for the final TD. Bell's kick was blocked, leaving the score 26-6.

Wipe-out!

Broughton chalked up its seventh victory against Jacksonville, 26-6. Raleigh took the opening kickoff and went 75 yards in eight plays for their first touchdown. Terry Benson went over from two yards out. Other scoring for the Caps included a five yard run by halfback Buddy Atkins, a one yard run by quarterback Woody Eatman, and a 27 yard punt return by halfback Tom Johnson.

Point Counterpoint

In the second quarter the Cap's Wayne Bell went around the left end for 17 yards and the first touchdown. Bell kicked the point that decided the game. With 3:11 showing on the clock, Reynolds wingback Eddie Arrington scampered 36 yards on a double reverse. A conversion attempt by Reynolds was unsuccessful. Raleigh controlled the ball during the first half and Reynolds the second.

Holes in the Sky

Amid torrents of rain, the Fayetteville team kept its Eastern 4-A Championship alive by defeating Broughton, 30 to 7, November 1. The Bulldogs knocked the Caps back on their heels and stayed in control of the game to end Broughton's eight game winning streak. Tommy Bradford, the Bulldog's 220 pound full back, scored 22 of the Bulldog's 30 points.

Rally!

With the powerful running of half-back Digit Lautheridge and a "fired-up" defense, the Blackbirds defeated the Caps, for their second straight Eastern 4-H and State Championship, 6-0. After having an earlier touchdown called back, the Caps seemed more alert throughout the game, but Rocky Mount's weight advantage prevailed. The game was close from start to finish with the team getting the most breaks, and taking advantage of them, winning.

Aftermath

Anticlimatic to every successful football season is the recognition of outstanding participants. Two Broughton players were named to play in the annual Shrine Bowl Game. Those participating were Wayne Bell and Woody Eatman. As members of the Shrine Bowl team, they also play in the East-West Game.

Three of the eleven composing the 4-A All-East Team were chosen from the Cap's squad. Bell was again listed. Bill Keene and Doug Bridges were also named, and Phil Holden received honorable mention.

Bell, captain of the team made the All-State 4-A Team.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Never since the 1952, 1953 and 1954 State Championships has Broughton been as well represented as by the 1963-64 squad.

The Caps finished the season with an overall record of nineteen wins and four losses.

CONFERENCE PLAY

In the conference schedule, Broughton won eleven of twelve games to secure the Eastern AAAA Conference Championship. The only defeat came at the hands of Durham's "Bulldogs," who ran away from the Caps, 55-67. One highlight of the season was the return match with the "Bulldogs." With an inspired vengeance, due both to the bitterness of the previous defeat and to the enthusiastic support of the student body, the Caps racked up seventy-five points against Durham with sixty-two. The final game of the regular season (Fayetteville, 63-60) qualified Broughton undisputedly for the conference title.

"We can't brag about the record, although it wasn't too bad," states Colonel Johnson, junior varsity basketball coach. "We did get a lot of experience and I think it will prepare the boys for the varsity next year. We had the necessary speed and height this year. If we develop these, we should have an exciting season."

The JV's are at a disadvantage in that the coach and his team have only a season to prepare. Although the purpose of the junior varsity is to develop players for the varsity team, the members still find the game of the moment challenging.

Look here, 34, that ball belongs to us!

NON-CONFERENCE PLAY

In non-conference play, Broughton dropped two games as compared with six wins. After Broughton's 68-57 win over Burlington in the first game of the season, Greensboro edged by the Caps, 54-53. A second game with Greensboro finished with a reversal: Broughton outpaced Grimsley, 65 to 63. After an easy 81-67 victory over High Point, Broughton was usurped in the second match by the inspired High Pointers, 57-62. Accounted as one of the most exciting games of the season was the Caps surprising runaway, 105 to 76, victory over East Mecklenburg of Charlotte.

Bridges is fuzzy in more ways than one.

Three of the High Point players seem to feel superior to such scrambles for the ball.

Number 13's knee looks like a very convenient stair step for Billy Trott.

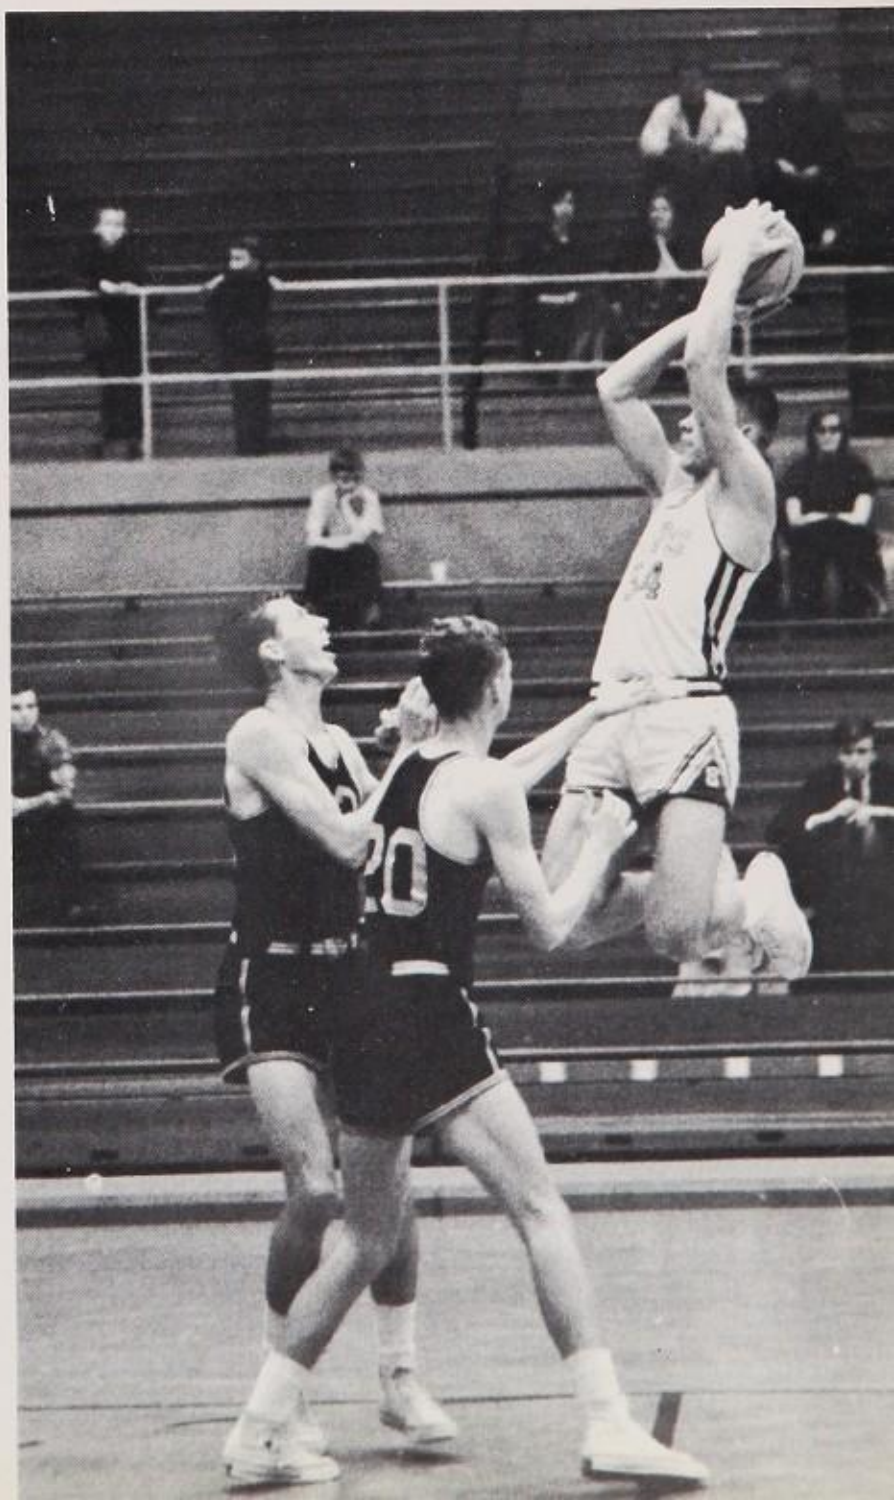
CONFERENCE PLAYOFFS

After Broughton won the Conference Championship, the team still had to win the Conference Playoffs to be represented at the State Tournament. In the semi-finals, the Caps defeated Wilmington's formidable team 63 to 60. The 63-60 win over strong Fayetteville in the finals enabled Broughton to represent the Eastern AAAA Conference for the State Championship.

STATE TOURNAMENT

Broughton's hopes to be State Champs were wiped out in Greensboro by Reynolds of Winston-Salem. The Reynolds team edged Broughton out 64-63 in two overtimes.

Bridges bounces higher than the ball ever did.



Swimming

Broughton swimmers began their season with a variety of hindrances. Beginning practice twelve weeks later than the previous year, a new coach, Joel Long, found a group of relatively inexperienced tryouts.

Despite the limitations of a one hour workout, Long prepared his swimmers for their first meet, the East Carolina College Invitationals. The Caps placed fourth against these opponents as Greensboro's Grimsley and Charlotte's Myers Park. The highlight of the meet was Broughton's victory in the 200 yards freestyle relay.

In dual meet competition Broughton suffered defeats by Myers Park, Rose of Greenville and Grimsley of Greensboro.

Receiving first place medals for the 200 yards freestyle relay are Floyd Drew, Bob Wickham, Gary Horvitz and Macon Gooch who also were STATE CHAMPIONS in this event.

Co-Captain Dick Young shown in the championship form that earned him the school's breast stroke record.

Broughton came closer to winning the second meet with these teams, demonstrating the value of experience. Broughton's best showing was not any of the victories over Chapel Hill or Page of Greensboro, but the second meet with Grimsley. A fired up Cap's team led until the last event, which ended with a narrow victory by Grimsley.

The Caps placed fourth in the State meet. Highlights for Broughton in this meet were the victory in the 200 yards freestyle relay and Mike McIntyre being edged out for second place in one meter diving.

Coach Long anticipates an excellent season next year with most of his swimmers returning and good prospects from transfers and rising sophomores. Unlike past coaches, he encourages year round swimming.

Joe Neal finishes in the one hundred yards backstroke.

Co-Captain Bob Wickham starts on leg of the winning relay.

Homecoming—1963

With crossed fingers and pleading glances at the sky, students of NBHS participated in the "best Homecoming ever." Although the weather forecasts predicted "possible rain," Thad Woodard and his Homecoming committee continued their enthusiasm and their plans. Float chairmen found themselves worrying about deadlines for final float plans; begging for a trailer or even a small car; collecting pennies; and wondering, "Why did I ever volunteer?" Afternoons were filled with meetings and searches for scarce chicken wire. Homeroom periods involved reading lengthy lists of "dos" and "dont's."

Homecoming festivities began at 5:30 Friday morning when the gates were opened, and the floats arrived at the athletic field. The remainder of the day was spent putting on the last pieces of crepe paper and hammering in the last nails. As their contribution to Homecoming, the Hospitality Committee made and sold the traditional purple and gold corsages. A four o'clock Friday afternoon the parade began moving down Fayetteville Street. Over sixty floats competed for the awards, making it Broughton's longest parade ever.

Guaranteeing a successful 1963 Homecoming was the victory of the Broughton Caps in the game Friday night. During the halftime of the game the sponsors were introduced on the field in bright, new convertibles. As it is with every Homecoming, an array of past graduates returned for the festivities. For all students, past and present, Homecoming, 1963, was one event to be long remembered.

Thad Woodard, Homecoming Chairman, announces the winner of a door prize during half-time ceremonies.

Queen of Hearts . . . 1964

With the beginning of second semester, Broughton students begin looking forward to the annual Valentine event, the Queen of Hearts festivities. Although the entire student body elects the Queen and Maid of Honor by a plurality vote, the Assembly and Dance are sponsored by the Senior Class. Blonde beauty Brett Miller reigned as the 1964 Queen of Hearts and dark-haired Melissa Smith was Maid of Honor. Each class had their own representatives for the Court.

On Friday morning, February 14, the Queen was introduced to her subjects in the Queen of Hearts Assembly. The theme for the activities was a Viennese Ballroom and the decorations reflected the beauty and romance of the occasion. The main setting included the typical long windows with the gold and blue curtains.

Each girl entered through the doorway of the ballroom and was greeted by two small doormen. The representatives were introduced and met by their escorts under the chandelier in the center of the gym. All the girls in the Court wore floor length gowns in pastel shades. After the presentation of the class representatives, Melissa Smith, Maid of Honor, was introduced and escorted to her seat beside the throne.

All eyes turned anxiously to catch the first glimpse of the girl who had captured everyone's heart. Queen of Hearts, Brett Miller, entered with her crown and train bearers. She was introduced under the chandelier and escorted to the throne by Randy Worth, President of the Senior Class. After Randy had crowned her, the Queen was saluted by her subjects as they sang "Sweetheart of Broughton High." For the Court's enjoyment royal entertainment was then presented by the Campusmen.

When the assembly ended everyone became more excited about the Dance on Saturday night. For the Dance the Viennese Ballroom was decorated with red and white and nine foot gold Cupids on both sides of the gym. After the Court was presented, entertainment was provided.

At eleven o'clock everyone left the gym, remembering the Viennese Ballroom, the quiet music, and the beautiful Queen of Hearts Court 1964.

FROM THE EDITOR . . .

I can't believe that the year is over and the LATIPAC finished. It's incredible. Like every Senior, I'm both glad and sorry to see the year end. It has been an ordinary year in many ways; in others, it has been completely unique.

The LATIPAC 1964 is an attempt to portray some of the memorable events of the year. If it makes the reader pause for a second to relive an emotion or an experience, its purpose will have been fulfilled. In addition, those people whose work and ideas made the LATIPAC a reality will have been more than adequately rewarded.

Many people have contributed to the LATIPAC in countless ways. I want especially to thank a few:

Miss Paschal, for her constant assistance, patience, and understanding;

Paul Hoch and Jeff Hill from Edwards & Broughton, who gave needed encouragement as well as technical help;

Burnie Batchelor and Jim Coble, who came over cheerfully and sometimes at a moment's notice to take innumerable pictures;

The photographers at school, who took many on-the-spot pictures;

Bruce Straughan, for his diligent work on the Sports Section;

The creative authors of the copy for division pages: Bunny Church, "What Is Broughton?"; Peggy Fontaine, "Sophomores"; Cathy Babcock, "Juniors"; Kay Ritchie, "Seniors"; Ronnie Sue Leith, "Organizations"; David Buchdahl, "Sports"; and Johnny Evans for writing up all the copy for Organizations;

Journalism students, who did much of the tedious planning in class and worked persistently to get ads;

Broughton's entire student body, faculty, and organizations for their unfailing cooperation;

And, finally, my family and friends for their help, for their optimism, and for always listening.

Jill Breslau

Sara,
You have truely been an inspiration this year. I want to write someday, and I hope I will be able to do so as well as you have done this year. I want to wish you the best of luck always.
Love,
Patsy Davis

135 WORDS ABOUT FREEDOM

The greatest threats to our freedoms are from forces outside our borders. But there's also a dangerous force within. Subtle. Persistent. Almost unperceived. It's this nation's steady advance toward more federal-government-in-business . . . and the accompanying effect on our individual affairs.

There are many examples, but take the electric light and power business as a case in point. In 1935, the federal government produced less than one per cent of the electric industry's total output. Today, this figure has climbed to 15 per cent. And there is constant pressure from advocates of government-in-business for even more expansion.

When government owns business in this manner—when it controls economic as well as political power—it becomes almost impossible for an individual to defend his freedoms.

Is this a risk you want to take?

on the job

For the first time in his business life, this man is "on his own" and fully prepared to meet the challenges of his new career with Occidental. He's just completed an intensive training program. The modern techniques used will help him capitalize on his real strengths so that he will enjoy greater financial rewards quicker, advance faster. In the coming months, he will receive the best sales material available from his company, plus close home office support. And when he has proven himself, he'll be offered a management position which will be a springboard to even greater success. This is the kind of person we call the Man from Occidental. It's the kind of opportunity an Occidental career offers.

To a brilliant, sweet girl - all best wishes for the future. Why don't you help me more with Latin? It would have been very easy for you to have let me catch a glimpse of your exam! Now I'll be doomed. See you next year.

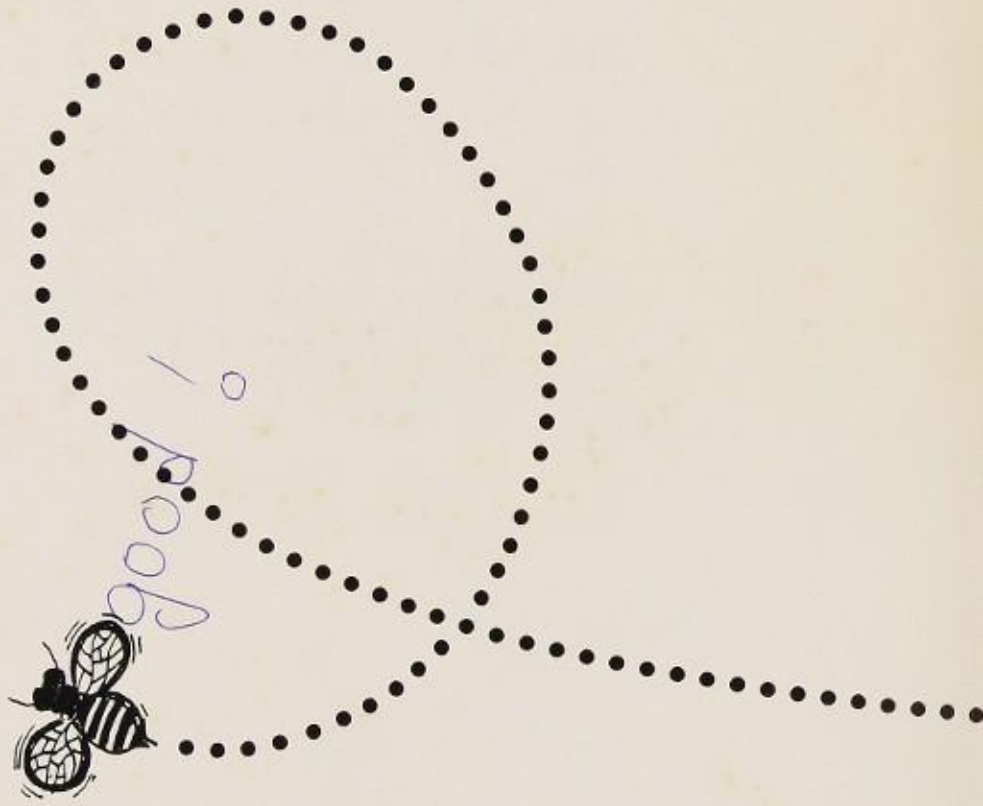
EVERY SPRING



Yes, every spring a student's thoughts will turn to flowers and bees and things . . . and graduation and bees and things . . . and every spring we turn our thoughts to students and yearbooks and things . . . and class pictures and type and things . . . and . . . why go on—the finest yearbooks are produced by Edwards & Broughton, Raleigh.

1821 North Boulevard

Dear, I love your title even though I have a bleeding heart like my only good one. Have fun this summer. I'll see you in homeroom next year. Ever truly,

Dear Sara,

Can you believe another year has passed? Well, we made it through Miss Perry, and it really wasn't bad. I hope we'll have some classes together next year (not study hall). Be good this summer & have fun at the beach.

Love,
Margo

Dear Sara,
after my numerous compliments it is hard for me to think of something to say. Despite what you say, I still think you are intelligent. May as you are always - a girl
Best of everything.
Marie

Sara,
You sure scared us in Latin this year. Fireball Sara, that's you. Sara with your intelligence you'll go far. Stay as sweet as you are.

Best wishes,
Susan L.

Sara,
although we haven't been able to get together very much this year, each time we did was wonderful. Always remember the movies we went to, the terrific Mexican food and the trip to Chapel Hill and the beach. Although it did offer a few suggestions (mouth habit, tiredness etc), you are truly one of the nicest and sweetest girls I have ever met! I hope I will be able to see you next year — we will probably get mad PeaCock-(*!;) please continue as you are to-a girl
Bonnie
M.

Sara,

There's so much to say to you that I really don't know how to start... I guess I'll always remember our long telephone conversations, each one of us trying to un-depress the other, yet not knowing quite how... our trip to Chapel Hill... me always talking in Latin and punching you when you were trying so hard to concentrate... then I always had to tell you every trivial thing that had happened to me all day, and you listened, never saying anything about yourself... but nevertheless you were always so willing to listen, never appearing uninterested. You were always there when I needed you. Then my cuts. They were never meant the same as they were for other people... I guess, in a way it was to show my affection for you. Some way...

Then you were there when I had to decide about calling Terry — you've always helped me. I guess I haven't said anything I wanted to - about how greatly I value your friendship - it's one of the best things in my life - I hope you'll understand what I'm trying to say - you always do.

Best wishes always and forever to forever - I hope I know you better next year, for I know there's so much in you...

Love,
Emmy
